

K-Love is one of the nice things we still can enjoy that is ours because we choose to support it. Someone cries they don't like this and the gov. takes it away. Someone else cries about praying or the ten commandments and it's taken away, where's our say in anything anymore. We sent troops here and there to help other countries be able to enjoy freedom like America, when we are actually slowly losing our freedom. It's the ones who cry the most that get what they want eventually. K-love has been a daily support and uplifting path in my daily routine, whether it be house cleaning while listening to the radio or on the way to work or at work. We can't control what's going on around us, even if we don't like it, but the one nice thing is I can at least control what I want to listen to for me. Please don't take that option away or change it.
